08 How this report was made

O I Your money nature

Aarav, wealth in Jyotish is read from the 2nd house (what you accumulate), the 11th house (what you gain), their lords and the planets of abundance, Guru and Shukra. This report reads them for your chart and turns them into habits you can use. It is never investment advice.

A generous, visible style

Your Lagna is Simha (Leo), the royal sign, with Mangal, Budh, Guru and Shukra all rising. You are likely to earn through your own presence, skills and reputation, and to spend generously: on family, on comfort, and on things that look and feel right. Money for you is closely tied to dignity and to caring for people.

Your Moon in Tula (Libra) likes balance and beauty, and your Shukra in the Lagna adds taste. Good surroundings genuinely matter to you. The only caution is that a Simha–Tula nature spends on quality without always counting it.

One lord for both money houses

For a Simha Lagna, Budh (Mercury) rules both the 2nd house, Kanya, and the 11th house, Mithuna. Your Budh sits in your own Lagna. When the single lord of both money houses lives in the 1st, earnings flow from your own skills, communication and name. Your wealth is in your own hands more than in most charts, which is both a gift and a responsibility.

- ◆ Budh rules both your money houses and sits in your Lagna: your wealth follows your own skills and habits.

O2 The 2nd house: what you keep

Kanya on the 2nd

Your 2nd house, Dhana bhava, is Kanya (Virgo), an earth sign of detail, order and careful work, with no graha in it. Its lord Budh sits in your 1st house. The 2nd house governs savings, family wealth, food and speech.

Its Sarvashtakavarga score is 21, below the traditional comfort line of 25. This is the clearest financial message in your chart: accumulation does not happen by itself. The good news is that Kanya is the sign of systems, and Budh, its lord, is in your own hands in the Lagna. A deliberate saving routine is exactly what this house responds to.

♦ 2nd house score 21: savings need a system, and your chart is well built to run one.

03 The 11th house: what you gain

Mithuna on the 11th

Your 11th house, Labha bhava, is Mithuna (Gemini), with Ketu in it, and its Sarvashtakavarga score is 41, the highest in your chart and one of the strongest scores a house can have. The 11th house governs income, gains, networks, elder siblings and fulfilled wishes.

A score of 41 describes income that comes readily when you work, and a network that brings opportunities. Ketu here adds a detached quality: you may prefer a few trusted connections to a large circle, and gains may come from specialist knowledge rather than self-promotion.

The gap between 41 and 21

Earning is strong and keeping is weaker: 41 against 21. Put simply, money comes in well and needs a structure to stay. People with this pattern who automate their saving on the day income arrives tend to build real wealth; people who rely on good intentions at the end of the month tend to wonder where it went.

O4 Dhana yogas and the Hora chart

Your wealth yogas

Your chart has a Dhana yoga, a classical wealth combination, formed by Budh, the lord of both money houses, sitting with Guru and Mangal, the lords of your 5th and 9th houses of merit and fortune. It is traditionally linked with the ability to earn and build resources through your own effort and good judgement.

You also have a Raja yoga formed by Guru, Mangal and Shukra, and Mangal is your Yogakaraka, the lord of both a kendra and a trikona. Status and income tend to rise together in a chart like this, and your luck follows your action.

The Hora chart (D2)

The Hora divides each sign into the Sun's half, Simha, and the Moon's half, Karka. Your Hora Lagna is Simha, and Surya, Chandra, Budh, Guru and Shukra all fall in the Sun's hora; Mangal, Shani, Rahu and Ketu fall in the Moon's. The Sun's hora is traditionally associated with wealth earned through effort, status and authority rather than inheritance or luck: money that follows your work and your name.

05 Timing of gains

The dasha picture

You are in Guru Mahadasha with Rahu Antardasha until 26 August 2027. Guru is part of your Dhana yoga, and Rahu sits in your 5th house of speculation and creativity, so these final months favour learning and new ideas, and ask for caution with speculative bets.

Your Shani Mahadasha begins on 26 August 2027. Its second sub-period, Budh Antardasha from 29 August 2030 to 8 May 2033, activates the lord of both your money houses. Traditionally this is the most important window in the coming decade for income and for building savings.

- ◆ The key window for wealth: Budh Antardasha, August 2030 to May 2033, ruled by the lord of both your money houses.

The sky in the next two years

Jupiter's transit is in Simha, your Lagna and the 11th from your Moon, from 31 October 2026 to January 2027 and again from June to November 2027. The 11th from the Moon is the house of gains, so these are traditionally good windows for income and helpful contacts.

Jupiter's transit then enters Kanya, your 2nd house of savings, from November 2027 to February 2028 and again from July 2028. Jupiter over the 2nd traditionally supports saving, family finances and accumulation: the ideal time to set the systems in the next chapter into place.

06 Habits your chart rewards

Four habits

Pay yourself first. Move a fixed share of every income into long-term savings on the day it arrives. For a 2nd house scoring 21 with its lord in your own Lagna, this single habit does more than any remedy.

Review money weekly. Budh, your wealth lord, rewards attention and numbers. A short review every Wednesday, Budh's day, keeps your strong income from leaking away.

Budget for generosity. Your Simha nature will spend on family and comfort; plan for it so it feels like a choice, not a surprise.

Keep speculation small. With Rahu in your 5th house, treat speculative ventures as a limited, deliberate amount rather than a plan. Nothing here is financial advice; for investment decisions, speak to a qualified adviser.

O7 Traditional practices

For Budh and Guru

Wednesday is Budh's day: reciting the Vishnu Sahasranama, giving books or school supplies, and green as the colour of the day are the traditional practices for your wealth lord. Thursday is Guru's day: respecting teachers, giving to education and temples, and yellow as the colour of the day.

Traditionally, keeping the north-east of your home clean and uncluttered and lighting a lamp at dusk are also associated with Lakshmi and steady prosperity. These are supports, not guarantees; your own habits remain the strongest remedy in this chart.
